

EX-LOCALITE TELLS OF HUGE TEXAS DROUTH

Everything's Burnt Out, Resident of Panhandle Declares

NO WATER BAN THERE, BUT COST IS MUCH HIGHER

By FRED C. SELBY (Mercury Staff Writer)

A man born and reared in Pottstown, who now has a touch of Texas in his talk and a lot of first-hand information on Texas in his head, reported yesterday on the hopes and heartaches that the drouth has brought to the South-west.

He is Charles E. "Chill" Kulp, a lifelong borough resident until he moved to Texas two years ago because of his health. He had been a plumber for nine years for William Boalton.

Kulp is back in town for a two-week visit. With him are his wife and their two children, Barbara, 16, and Helen, 11. They're staying at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. John Harmoniski, 795 Willow street.

The 39-year-old Kulp has been living in the town of Memphis, in the Texas Panhandle, in the middle of one of the huge sections hardest hit by the drouth.

With more than a hint of a Texas drawl in his voice, Kulp reported, "Down there, things are just entirely burnt out—everything. Even the cactuses are dying, and when they die, it's dry."

IN CONTRAST to the parched land around it, the town itself has plenty of water, thanks to extra wells drilled recently by the water company.

"We don't have to have any water ban like you do here," he said, "but then we have to pay for the water, and plenty."

Heat Wave Presses Town Sixth Day

The torrid heat wave continued flaunting its jazy temperatures yesterday as the mercury rose to a high of 91—the sixth day in a row the 90 mark has been reached.

And from the looks of things the heat wave is going to stay right with us for a while.

Late weather forecasts last night said that the high today would be between 88 and 94, and you can probably bank on its leaning toward the higher figure.

The weatherman reported yesterday that the rains over the weekend were not part of a cold front. Merely clouds formed by heavy humidities.

YESTERDAY morning saw a thick fog rolling through the borough.

About 5:30 a. m. cars were (Continued on Page Two)

Arm-in-arm for the first time in 26 years, Mrs. Walter J. Wolf Jr., of Ringing Rocks, and her three sisters beam happily at one another last night on the first occasion that the four have all been together since 1927. From left to right, they are: Mrs. Christine Tracey, Long Beach, Calif.; Mrs. Isabelle Cook, Norristown; Mrs. Wolf, and Mrs. Dorothy Morrissey, Allentown. The four sisters, with their families, got together at the Wolf's Ringing Rocks home yesterday for a reunion.

CHURCH PICNIC SLATED TODAY 4 Reunite After 26 Years

By STANLEY ZAWADZKI (Mercury Staff Writer)

1400 Persons Expected at Emmanuel Lutheran Outing

More than 1400 persons are expected to attend annual picnic of Emmanuel Lutheran church and Sunday school today at Sunnybrook.

The picnic will officially start at 1 p. m., but in the event of rain, only an evening program in the ballroom will be held.

If it does rain, the afternoon events will be postponed to next Wednesday.

But with a precedent of 22 years of "rainless" picnic dates behind them, the committee in charge of the annual event feels confident of good weather.

THE PROGRAM WILL open at 1 p. m. with swimming for boys and girls.

At 3 p. m., games for children with gifts for all—along with peanuts, candy and balloons—will be conducted.

A checker tournament will start at 3:30 p. m. This is a new feature and anyone is invited.

At 4 p. m., the games for adults will start. Cake-walks, hoop relays, fashion parade, peanut scramble and quilt pitching for men and women (Continued on Page Two)

Area GI Wounded By Mortar Fire At Korean Front

An 18-year-old Pottstown area soldier, one of four sons who have seen military service, has been seriously wounded in action in Korea.

Army Pfc. James J. Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Theodore Reed, Park road, near Perkiomenville, sustained internal injuries and wounds of the upper back when hit by mortar fragments.

In a letter that his parents received yesterday, he wrote (with Red Cross help) that he was in a hospital in Korea, but "I'm going to Japan very soon."

He said, "I have to lie flat on (Continued on Page Three)

How They Look Ahead

Boy Meets People, Works With Eye Toward Future

Fifteen-year-old Ronald C. Rohland, one of a sturdy band of Pottstown young people who believe in working between school years, is dipping cones to save money for college.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Rohland, 39 West Fifth street, he's working part-time or four days a week at Levengood's Cup, Charlotte and Prospect streets.

The money he makes—$7 to $11 a week—goes toward the day when he'll be going to college.

Young Rohland has his eye on a career in music, either as teacher or instrumentalist. He got an early start in the career, taking up the trumpet and clarinet when he was 9 years old.

web which drew together four sisters for the first time in 26 years.

They indicate the routes the sisters and their families took to meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Wolf Jr., Ringing Rocks.

From California came Mrs. J. A. Tracy, her husband and two children Michael and Bridget.

From Allentown, Mrs. James Morrissey arrived with her family which included two married daughters.

One of them, Mrs. James Ritter, traveled from Massachusetts with her husband and daughter.

The shortest hop was left to Mrs. Wolfe's fourth sister, Mrs. W. C. Cook. She drove from her Norristown RD home with her husband and two children, Nancy and Tommie.

For the three sisters making the trip, it was a journey "back home."

The childhood home of the four, had been at 73 North Franklin street, Pottstown. They lived here until the death of their father, P. W. Kilian, in 1927. His death followed the death of the girls' mother by four years.

The four girls had maintained the household after their mother's death. After their father's death they still stayed together for a short time. Mrs. Wolf, who teaches the First grade at Washington school, explained last night.

"That was the last time we were all together," she said. "Then we got jobs in different cities and helped put one another through school." Mrs. Wolf explained.

Ballerinas, Witches Spark Playground Costume Contest

From glowering witches and ghostly skeletons to pert ballerinas and snappy majorettes, children at the Brookside playground went all-out yesterday in their first costume show of the season.

Part of the reason for the enthusiastic response may have been that the show was the youngsters' own idea, said Mrs. Florence Manthorne, director of playgrounds.

Eighteen children participated in the show.

They blossomed forth with get-ups ranging from cowboys, jesters, cadets and rabbits to Brookside's own "Miss America," complete with bathing suit.

Mrs. Virginia Hudock, 837 Warren street, took on the formidable task of choosing winners in the four different classifications.

THOSE SELECTED were: most beautiful costume, Sue Baleman, first; Kaye Duncan, second, and (Continued on Page Ten)

COUNCIL UNITS SLATE TALKS ON DOG POUND

No More Funds Needed, Says Finance Chief Knause

NEW PLACE BEING SOUGHT TO KEEP STRAY ANIMALS

The disposition of Pottstown stray dogs and the borough dog catcher will draw council's finance and property committee together to night.

The committee will discuss the request of Burgess William A. Griffith for construction of a new dog pound.

At least one committeeman will oppose vehemently the expenditure of additional money for a new pound.

Veteran Finance Chairman J. Wayne Knause, Seventh ward, asserted, "There's money here for any extravagant procedure such as a new dog pound. Each committee is supposed to stay within its budget, except in the cases of an emergency."

"One-thousand dollars has been placed in the budget for the care and handling of stray dogs. That includes the dog catcher's salary, $70 per month."

"Certainly that ought to be enough money to take care of our dogs."

The borough of Norristown which is almost twice as large as Pottstown (population, 38,126, 1950 census) does not spend one cent on stray dogs.

"I am absolutely opposed to any additional appropriation. I can see no reason why we must spend more than $1000 a year to care for dogs."

"The whole problem is up to the burgess. He's the boss of the dog catcher (Willard G. Wilkinson) and if anything has gone wrong in the dog catching department it's his responsibility."

"I can't see why any committee should foot the bill. After all the burgess is the commander in chief and it's up to him."

KNAUSE pointed out $375 was appropriated in the 1950-51 budget for construction of the present pound, located near the borough dump.

He said, "If we continue to build (Continued on Page Two)

Lid Shuts in Trash Case With Woodley in Accord

By NORMAND POIRIER (Mercury Staff Writer)

Council's sanitation committee put the lid back on Pottstown's garbage can last night—and so quietly that not a single neighbor was awakened.

In a second action, Donald Woodley, garbage contractor, was absolved of any responsibility in a recent dump fire that cost the borough more than $200 to put out.

After a brief overture, the meeting settled into a "collector's item" of friendliness.

"Why aren't you putting the lids back on the garbage cans, Mr. Woodley?" Councilman Paul Marshall asked, paternally.

"We have no excuse," Woodley replied, calmly. "If you had asked us to put them back on we would have."

With the ice thus broken, councilmen and contractor swam in the refreshing waters of mutual understanding for the next 15 minutes.

THE FOUR councilmen present, Marshall, Chairman John S. Frain, Paul Kohler and Paul Romig, told Woodley that they understood he wasn't putting lids back on cans.

Marshall and Romig said they had received very few complaints. Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden, who would receive the most complaints, said that he hadn't received "too many" but that he did get some about lids and grass and shrub cuttings not being picked up.

To better explain his case, Woodley presented the councilmen with a dozen snapshots of garbage cans from around town.

The pictures, taken the past week, showed cans overflowing with garbage, cans with holes in the bottom, battered cans, piles of junk next to cans.

"These are the conditions of a lot of the cans we have to work with," Woodley said.

"We pick some of these up without complaining."

HE SAID there was one place where he is positive the garbage is filled by a man who lives outside the borough and who brings it to his son's home to avoid paying a garbage collector.

"If I was to tell the man that he'd call me a liar," Woodley said.

Woodley also explained why a lot of cans get battered in the dumping process.

"Some people load their cans with cut grass then jump up and down on them to pack more in. When we go to the dump, we have to bang the cans to unstick the stuff."

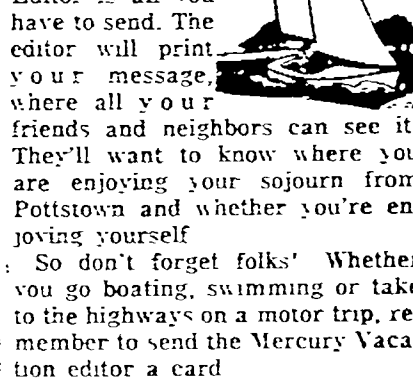

The garbage collector also (Continued on Page Three)

July 22 Is Bad Day For Airplane Flights In Pottstown Vicinity

Unless you're the kind who can laugh right out loud at superstition, today might be an excellent one for not making any airplane flights.

On July 22 of both the past year and of 1951, there were airplane crashes in the Pottstown area—one of them fatal, both of them serious.

This brings up the superstition—that things happen in threes.

The past July 22, an F 51 Mustang fighter plane locked wings with another F 51, then went into a tailspin and crashed into a dense woods near Hopewell lake.

Pottstown Supplied By Stowe Reservoir

Probably nobody in town noticed it, but for eight hours yesterday Pottstown was getting all of its water from the reservoir in Stowe.

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden said that a switch on two 250 horsepower motors at the main pumping plant broke yesterday.

The pumps were out of action for eight hours. Meanwhile, more than two million gallons of water were drained from the Stowe reservoir to satisfy residents' needs.

The pumps were working again last night feeding residents and refilling the reservoir.

Some Homes Slated For Water Shut-Off

Residents of Pottsgrove Manor incorporated development will be without water today from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m., Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden said yesterday.

Gulden said that the water would be shut off during those hours so that a new water main can be laid that will take care of any future home building along West King street.

Since that section of street is to be rebuilt in the near future, the pipe is being laid now so that the street will not have to be torn up at a later date.

$20,000 SET FOR 'ARMY' BY FUND PANEL

Appropriation Below Request by Agency

An appropriation of $20,000 was recommended to the Salvation Army by a United Fund panel last night.

The recommendation was $3681 under the "Army's" request, but $11,500 more than the 1952 appropriation.

The increase was granted in consideration of the "Army's" membership drive which raised $9754.

The King street citadel had requested $2200 in 1952, but was cut far short of its request when the UF campaign fell below its goal.

Members of Panel I at the session in the citadel last night paged through brochures which listed "Army" activities and explained expenditures.

COL. JOHN Grace, divisional commander, Philadelphia, and Capt. C. Robert Flinn of the local citadel answered panel questions.

The "Army's" budget for 1953 is $36,000.

Wide-spread "Army" activities were covered in the brochure.

The program of the local citadel includes religion and educational training, the disbursement of food and clothing to needy families and disaster work, such as fires and storm affected sections.

Religious services are conducted each Sunday at the citadel.

Sunday school services are held at Penn Village and Hilldale and educational programs are conducted during the week (Continued on Page Two)

Man Posts $500 Bail On Tippy Driving Charge

Julius Metz, 450 King street, posted $500 bail for court after a hearing yesterday morning before Seventh Ward Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus on a drunken driving charge.

Patrolman John A. Kirlin Jr., who arrested him Monday night, on Franklin street between Beech and Walnut streets, appeared against him.

The night before, Metz was arrested at High and Hanover streets by Patrolman Daniel Kegel on a reckless driving charge.

Bus Line Requests PUC to Discontinue One Boyertown Run

One of the bus lines from Boyertown to Pottstown will be discontinued next month, Walter L. Murphy, owner of Murphy Bus lines, said yesterday.

Murphy has filed an application with the State Public Utility commission asking permission to discontinue service of one of his routes.

Murphy operates two different routes between the two boroughs. One travels from Pottstown to New Hanover, Gilbertsville and then Boyertown. And the second goes from Pottstown through Morysville to Boyertown.

The route to be discontinued is the latter—the one through Morysville.

Murphy explained that he was dropping the line "because no one wants it."

$500 Loss Caused As Farm Combine Bursts Into Flame

Approximately $500 damage was caused late yesterday afternoon when a motor caught fire and exploded its gasoline tank while a Chester Springs RD farmer was combining oats.

The fire occurred about 4:30 o'clock on the farm of I. Newton Evans Jr., of Chester Springs RD, a mile from Ludwigs corner on Route 401.

Evans said his father, I. Newton Evans Sr., was operating the combine when the fire started. First the motor caught fire, he explained, and then the tank blew up. No one was injured.

Evans, his father and a handyman, John Spangler, who was working across the field, attempted to put out the fire with a small extinguisher and some dirt before the Lionville Fire company arrived.

The firemen, under the direction of Fire Chief Henry Worthington, quickly completed extinguishing the fire and prevented it from starting anew.

Early last night Evans was told that it would cost about $500 dollars to repair the motor and tank. The machinery was insured.

a new pound every several years then we'll soon have a mighty expensive dog-catching department."

The finance chairman pointed out $424 has been spent for Wilkinson's salary and incidentals for the first six months of 1953.

Neither committee can act on Wilkinson. Their only jurisdiction in the dog problem is the request by the burgess to build a new pound at a cost of $500 to $600.

At the June 8 session of council the burgess made a plea for the new pound.

Griffith said at that session he had been approached by three women of the Montgomery county SPCA about the dog pound problem.

The burgess continued, "I might have to apologize for the conditions of the pound down there. They've moved it around and to be frank I didn't know just where it was. I understand it's near the borough dump and it's loaded with disease germs."

"I recommend the present pound be destroyed and a new one constructed at whatever it might cost, probably in the neighborhood of $500 or $600. I have asked the dog catcher to discontinue picking up dogs."

The burgess then read a letter of recommendations which the women asked him to recite.

The letter included three points:

1. The borough bring pressure on the dog catcher to abide by the dog ordinance and to contact owners in all cases when dogs are picked up.
2. To provide suitable quarters for the dogs because the present pound allegedly is infected with distemper germs.
3. The pens should include cement floors. They should be constructed in the shade with ventilation.

Although the duties and operations of Wilkinson will be discussed in connection with the dog pound no official action can be taken by the committees concerning his duties.

He works for the burgess.

It was pointed out at the council's June session the Montgomery county SPCA is duty bound to collect stray dogs and put them to sleep "humanely" in the Plymouth township pound.

Several councilmen have received complaints since the June meeting that dogs remain in the borough pound.

One official pointed out Wilkinson also serves as dog catcher for the borough of Royersford.

In addition to his $70 monthly salary he receives payment from the State for unclaimed stray dogs. Payment is based on the number of ears he forwards to Harrisburg.

Peter J. Lawler, veteran chairman of property committee, will ask members of his committee to inspect necessary repairs to borough hall.

He said, "I asked the borough manager to prepare a list of repairs some time ago, but I know he's very busy and I guess he just didn't get around to it."

TEXAS DROUTH —

he recalled, he had water bills of $25 to $27 a year. In Texas, he's been paying water bills of $14 or more a month.

The drouth, Kulp said, "isn't something that's just come on; it's something that's been coming on for a long time."

The lack of rain this Summer isn't the main problem, he said. "If we can get good rains or snows in the Winter, we don't need any rain underneath that soil, you'll be okay with the crops we raise."

WHILE Summer storms always will be welcome, Kulp continued, they won't solve anything. "Oh, it'll help bring spots back, sure, but it won't really benefit. The only way we're going to get any results is a good steady rain spread out for a long period of time."

The big reason Texans want to plant a quick feed crop is that they will enable farmers to plant a quick feed crop.

"There's no real money in that," he said, "but it might help some pull through."

Many farmers and cattlemen, who were worth up to a million dollars a few years ago, now have lost everything and are $45,000 or more in debt. "It's no wonder a lot of them don't go insane—selling all their life building, getting to the place where they're all set, and then see it all dry up in a year."

IN MANY OF the towns, he said, lawns are dying out, trees are dying out and business is dying out. If it continues, he said, "Everything would just close up, because if the farmer and cattleman down there's hurt, everybody's hurt."

Watching and hoping for rain is a heart-breaking business. Often, he said, "We'll have clouds over us as big as can be and as black as the ace of spades, and not get a drop."

Other times, he said, "We'll see a cloud on the horizon that doesn't look any bigger than a football. It'll sail over us, then come back and give us the worst hail storm you ever saw."

Kulp said his wife isn't too fond of Texas now because as a conscientious housewife, the dust storms are exasperating.

"One day we'll have 50-mile winds and hardly a drop of dust. The next day there'll be hardly any breeze anywhere but the dust'll come in like a cloud. It even gets inside bureau drawers."

HIS YOUNGER daughter seems to like Texas. His older one isn't so enthused and she may stay in Pottstown to continue her ambitions to become a nurse.

As for himself, Kulp said, the neuritis that had been afflicting his arms, back, shoulders and legs for nearly nine years has improved greatly in Texas' very dry air.

Kulp plans to continue living in the Panhandle, although he said the plumbing business, like every other business, faces a rough road unless the drouth ends.

"But," he said with his Texas-like drawl, "I haven't lost my hopes."

The jury freed Stanley J. Bland, 44, the truck driver, of blame in the traffic death which occurred the past May on a hilly street in nearby Turtle Creek. He told the jury his air brakes failed.

Linda Jane Tweedy, the daughter who was pushed from the path of the truck, also testified.

Driver Killed as Truck Goes Through Guard Rail

NEW OXFORD, July 21 (AP)—John L. Hall, 28, Philadelphia, was killed today when a tractor-trailer truck he was driving crashed through a guard rail on the Lincoln highway here.

Apparently, State police said, Hall either fell asleep at the wheel or the truck or was overcome by the heat. The truck, loaded with empty beer cases, went down an embankment after going through the guard rail and piled up in a ditch.

Hall was declared dead on arrival at Hanover hospital.

Truck Driver Is Freed In Pedestrian Killing

PITTSBURGH, July 21 (AP)—A coroner's jury ruled today Mrs. Eleanor Jane Tweedy, 39, was killed accidentally when a big truck ran her down as she rushed into its path to push her 14-year-old daughter to safety.

The jury freed Stanley J. Bland, 44, the truck driver, of blame in the traffic death which occurred the past May on a hilly street in nearby Turtle Creek. He told the jury his air brakes failed.

Linda Jane Tweedy, the daughter who was pushed from the path of the truck, also testified.

Two Pottsville Children Hospitalized With Polio

POTTSTOWN, Pa., July 21 (AP)—Two small boys were admitted as polio patients today at Pottsville hospital. Neither youngster's condition was considered serious, the hospital said.

The two are Lenwood Hatter, 7, of Hegins, and James Valentine, 9, of Pottsville.

Results of Schuylkill Spraying Spotty; Planes to Make Second Try Aug. 1

Results of the State's first airplane spraying of the Schuylkill canal this year were spotty in the Pottstown area, but the State hopes to do better with a second spraying scheduled for Aug. 1.

Residents spot-checked in Pottstown Landing and Kenilworth said results had been disappointing, there being as many or more mosquitoes now than there were at this point in previous years.

But a Fricks Locks resident filed a strong minority report, saying that the skitter situation was much improved.

Major Russell Gies, insect control consultant for the State, which did the work the past July 10, said his reports on results generally indicated about 25 miles of the abandoned canal indicated the spraying had been fairly effective.

He conceded there had been under suspension at a hearing bestiches, such as the ones of which area residents complained, that had not gotten an effective dose of insecticide.

THE SPRAYING tentatively set for Aug. 1 should be more effective, he said, because the State then will use the new-type tobacco granules soaked with insecticide, to penetrate foliage and reach the water.

The State had planned to use this type spray the first time, but was unable to do so. Major Gies added that the weather the past July 10 was foggy at first and then windy, both of which conditions tended toward spotty results.

John Horosky, 23 Riverside avenue, Kenilworth, said, "I believe this is the worst year we've ever had for mosquitoes. It's terrible. You can't even sleep."

Mrs. Andrew Schultz, Union avenue, South Pottstown, said, "We don't stay out when they start biting, I'll tell you that!" She said she thinks the spraying plane missed the stretch of canal near her home, although she saw it spraying nearby.

Frank Cisarik, who's 15, has played in a wide section near the canal. He said, "They're biting like mad." He thought the plane had been kept too high for effective spraying.

In Fricks Locks, the Rev. Escot S. Sellers said, "I haven't really noticed as many mosquitoes this present year as in former years. We haven't been very much bothered by them considering the very heavy rains of the Spring. I'd say the situation was good."

Spiezio Hearing Set For Tomorrow

Frederick A. Spiezio, 21-year-old motorist freed of two charges by Pottstown police, this past February, will be charged with driving his lemon-yellow convertible under suspension at a hearing before Second ward Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley tomorrow night at 6:45 o'clock.

He was arrested by William Mars for operating his car on King street while under suspension this past month.

He was picked up by Mars and Motor Patrolman Paul I. Gallo way this past July 3 and released on $500 bail.

Ironing Board Clues Help Trap 'Burglar'

ORANGE, Calif., July 21 (U. P.)—Police had a tough time ironing this one out.

Sgt. and Mrs. J. A. Mouch reported their home had been entered but that something appeared rather than disappeared.

The doors and windows had been secured and none was found pried open. Yet, in the kitchen the couple found a new ironing board leaning against the wall.

Neighbors reported the same thing.

Pressing further, the police found that the "burglar" was the manager of the new tract. He had used his pass key because he wanted to give each housewife a new ironing board.

Parcel Post Rates Go Up, Up! But Long Range Package Delivery Still a Good Bargain

Parcel post is loaded into railway car at Washington Union Station.

By FRANKLIN JOHNSON (Central Press Writer)

WASHINGTON, July 20 — You'll pay about one-third more for parcel post after the first of August.

This is on top of the 25 percent increase of two years ago, but the long distance package delivery system in the Post Office department still probably is one of the best bargains around.

Since the federal law now requires the Post Office to apply to the Interstate Commerce commission for rate increases whenever the parcel post service goes into the red, it has become one of the most sensitive indicators of rising costs.

The ink was hardly dry on the ICC's latest boost when the 122 railroads that carry the mail again filed a request with the same agency to give them an increase of 45 percent to close the gap between their mail revenue of $319 million and claimed costs of $450 million yearly.

So more increases are in the offing, including the requests that Postmaster General Arthur Sumner filed made to Congress that the first class rate be upped from the familiar three cents to a four-cent rate by October, and the air mail rate from six to seven cents.

ALL OF THIS maneuvering is an attempt to cut the department's operating deficit which amounted to $680 million in the 1953 fiscal year ending June 30, and the estimated $600 million that would be lost under the present rates during the 1954 fiscal year.

Of the four classes of mail, parcel post bulks largest both in the volume of mail handling and the deficits incurred. However, because of the machinery for the Post Office asking the ICC to authorize rate increases in line with increased costs, it is adjusted the quickest.

Mailing of packages is taken for granted these days, but its incorporation into the postal services of the world was one of the big reform movements of the late Nineteenth Century, postal authorities point out. Internationally it got its start in 1873 at the Postal Union Congress in Paris.

Not until passage by Congress of the Parcel Post act of Aug. 24, 1912, was the scope

my back right now. Don't worry, I'll be all right."

A TELEGRAM that the parents received earlier from the Secretary of the Army's office said he was "seriously wounded" when his outfit's position was attacked.

He was wounded July 8. He wrote the letter the following day. It was the second time in the past two days that an area soldier has been reported as seriously wounded.

The first was Pfc. Victor R. Bauer, 206 Oak street, Pfc. Reed has a 21-year-old brother, Army Pfc. Richard W. Reed, who now is a dispatcher in Fusan, Korea. In addition, two other brothers, Robert T.

The past year it was possible to return 139,924 articles to senders, but 761,207 ended up in the dead parcel office and $395,366.82 was realized in the auctions that were held. "However, you ought to see the bargains the fans of these auctions get," announced a postal official.

The current rate increase was vigorously opposed by commercial mail groups, but the ICC said that its analyses showed that, since 1949, increases in railway mail pay, salaries and other items of expense amounted to more than $400 million annually.

You will not be able to rely on the 36 percent figure in computing any given rate, however, since it is an "average." It will be slightly more or less between given zones. Typical increases for five pounds are from 48 cents to 63 cents between New York and Chicago, and from 83 cents to $1.05 between New York and San Francisco.

Although it has been carrying parcels at a loss, the Post Office gets one nice windfall in connection with the nearly 10 million mis-addressed packages each year.

Don't Delay Installation Of New Water Facilities

WHILE Pottstown's usually carefully groomed lawns are roasting in the hot sunlight with nary a drop of water available to slake their thirst, borough officials are hoping that water supply facilities will be of sufficient capacity next year so that a water ban need not be imposed.

Competent engineers met with 18 of the 26 borough councilmen the other night and discussed plans for additional water pressure. The shortest time possible for installation of proper machinery is two and one-half months, they estimated. From that it is easy to figure that no relief can be expected this Summer, and the most that can be hoped for is for sufficiency next year.

Now that the Summer is hot and the grass brown, it is no effort at all to generate enthusiasm for additional water facilities. But comes the day when the Summer drouth is no longer with us, and thoughts will turn to the world series, the Trojans' chances for football victory and what to give pop for Christmas.

Then will come the idea of March, mom's new Easter hat, marrying off Mamie in June—and before you know it, another Summer drouth will be upon us with little accomplished on its elimination.

Like the leaky roof—when it's raining, you can't go out in the rain to fix it; when it isn't raining, it doesn't need to be fixed.

Like the proposed fire alarm box in South Pottstown—just after the fire at the Pottstown Manufacturing company, South Pottstownians were all enthused about it; but there hasn't been a serious fire in South Pottstown since then and people are too occupied with sun tan lotion to bother with it.

And so, if future events cast their shadows before them, the problem of the lack of water pressure seems destined for a dusty shelf. This isn't the first Summer that Pottstown has been plagued with a water shortage; it's old stuff. Yet mighty little constructively has been done about it.

Monday night's special council meeting, however, did clear the way for immediate action. Councilmen voted solidly for the erection of a water tank near the Brookside Country club. This had been delayed before because certain officials weren't sure that the site adjacent to Brookside was the proper site. Now they have been convinced and no further delay can be expected from those quarters.

With the green light now blinking furiously, it is the bounden duty of council to proceed with all despatch to proceed with the erection of the 600,000-gallon tank proposed and with the installation of all appurtenances necessary.

Let there be no dilly-dallying. Council has flashed the go-ahead signal. Pottstown, with North End section growing rapidly, faces increasing water demands constantly. Each year's famine becomes a more serious one.

Delay is tempting, but will be costly. The job must be done immediately.

Slow Down to Live

THOUGHTLESS and discourteous drivers, who through lack of self-control when driving a car are likely to wreck the lives and property of others, are the target of Gov. John S. Fine's safety advisory committee and the Pottstown Automobile club.

With thousands on Pennsylvania's highways this month, it is more important than ever to drive cars at a safe speed. A safe speed is a speed not so slow that it impedes traffic and not so fast that control of the car may be lost even momentarily.

At 60 miles per hour, an automobile can do nine times as much damage as a car traveling at 20 miles an hour. Furthermore, your chances of surviving a crash is seven times greater at 20 miles an hour than at 60 miles an hour.

So when you're plying the highways with thousands of others these days, drive at a safe speed, neither too fast nor too slow, and if you see danger ahead, use caution. Slow down and live.

Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see whar Pottstowners won't get reit'er from the water shortage till next year. Shucks, out here we only have to wait till it rains! If they do get it next year, that'll be a lot of people on relief.

'N I see whar Pottstown's fire horn is out on a look too. They say it's busted. Out here it's been so long since the fire horn went off, we ain't got no way of knowin' whether it's busted or not.

I see whar the Boy Scouts got a warm welcome in California. If they come home soon, they'll get a hot reception here. I never seed such weather. It's enough to give prickly heat to a pear.

Sabotaging Peace.
To the Editor: President Eisenhower has assured us that he wants peace. But apparently he does not want it just now. If he does he would hardly be giving priority to rollback proposals and other long-range objectives which are sure to provoke war.

Moreover, his refusal to back up his bold words for peace with bold deeds, until Russia has thrown away certain bargaining points, is the familiar technique of those who want to take an unfair advantage or to stall for time.

Judging from Eisenhower's personal efforts, by means of demagoguery, to intensify our hatred of Russia, he is more interested in conditioning public opinion for aggressive war than for peace by peaceful means.

His omissions and commissions in the handling of Syngman Rhee clearly demonstrate that he is in league with Rhee to avoid an armistice and is still in league with him to sabotage the peace.

I'm a night worker, and just when I'm drifting off to sleep in the morning—CRASH! BAM! BONG! CLATTER! The happy garbage boys arrive.

You can hear them coming down the street even if you keep all the windows closed, and who can sleep with closed windows these days? If you're only half awake when they start tossing the cans around under your window, you'd think the Russians were in Pottstown.

I'm sure that if they went about their work more sensibly (that is, quietly) they would save a lot of garbage cans and I would be able to save my nerves, too.

Procrustes Compared
To the Editor: It seems to me that Sen. McCarthy should keep up with the times. Instead, he is emulating that legendary Greek highwayman, Procrustes, who enforced conformity by harsh arbitrary methods. That is, he either stretched his victims to fit his iron bed, or cut off their legs to meet his specifications.

Of course, if I had to make the horrid choice, Procrustes would be my man. I at least did not tamper with men's ideas, without which McCarthy and the rest of us would still be covering in a dank cave, in object fear of the sabre-toothed tiger.

But if we are not wary of McCarthyism, we'll end up as a race of browbeaten mental troglodytes, and our caves will be a result of our own baseless fears and indifference.

Why the Howl
To the Editor: With federal rent controls due to expire July 31 we hear howls to high heaven about wicked property owners increasing rents 10 to 50 percent. During the 11 years of controls, many of these tenants have received increases in their wage and income from 50 to 200 percent and they have taken all increases in the cost of living as a matter of course.

The main howl is the high rental housing. Little is mentioned of the thousands of moderate rental units where rent ceiling were pegged at $20 to $30 per month by federal statutes and the office of rent control!

Pottstown NONCHALANT

Picnic Boozed Scored
To the Editor: I can't think of anything more disgusting than to see mothers and fathers swilling whisky and beer at picnics, with their children looking on sorrowfully.

What do the children think when their mothers carry on like nitwits, some of them rolling around the grass? What do you think they say of their fathers who stagger around, speak thickly and make fools of themselves? Isn't there any township laws that make drinking beer at picnics illegal? If there isn't, there should be.

Tell me where the picnicers get their booze especially on a Sunday? Pottstown CHURCH GOER

Jottings in Pencil
Britain's royal family is proceeding full steam ahead with plans to send Princess Margaret here on a "strike up the good will" mission in the Fall. Palace circles think the visit to the US would accomplish two ends: delight the American public, which took such an intense interest in the Coronation, and distract Her Royal Highness's mind from her romance with Group Capt. Peter Townsend.

Milton Berle, a big hit at the Sands in Las Vegas, stood by for Betty Hutton at an opposition club when she collapsed after her first show. And when she went on for the second show, Miltie waited in the wings throughout the whole performance to make sure she made it. A Broadway bookie, L. E., is shaking in his perforated suede shoes. He's received four threatening letters in a week—and doesn't dare call the cops, although he's scared stiff.

ONE OF ISABEL Bigley's most intense performances fascinated observers at Bergdorf's the other day as she tried to persuade a fitter to have her clothes ready by next Friday. The fitter kept saying it was impossible, but Isabel wouldn't take that for an answer.

"It better be possible," she exploded. "I'm getting married next Monday!"

Lon Capone and Ray Muscarella, the combination that made Vic Damone a star, are working together again with Rocky Graziano. Laugh if you will, but they're actually going to have him make a record.

"THE BEAST from 20,000 Fathoms" is a genuine monster to Hal E. Chester and Jack Dietz, the B-picture producers who made it. They sold it outright to the Warner studio in return for a small percentage—and currently it's one of the heaviest money makers in the nation. As each new box office report comes in, the Messrs. Chester and Dietz kick themselves a little harder.

Jane Woster, Queen of the local Press Photographers Ball two years ago, has been chosen to portray Dixie Dugan when the comic strip hits TV. The plum for Jane—who won out over hundreds of applicants from all over the country—will be announced soon. Hey, girls! Reports from Europe have Clark Gable's sporting a butch (or Jerry Lewis-type) haircut.

The Worry Clinic
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

DAISY N. is a high school senior.

"Dr. Crane, my boy friend wants me to marry him as soon as I graduate from High school next term," she began.

"He is two years older than I am and works for his father on a farm. I love him and he loves me."

"He has behaved like a gentleman on all of our dates, and he doesn't have any bad habits like using tobacco or drinking."

"So do you think I ought to wait a year or two, as my parents suggest?"

DAISY WOULD be much better fitted for successful marriage if she would defer her wedding till she has taken a Business college course and has then worked for at least a year.

In George Washington's day, girls married at 15 or 16. But the average life span was then about 42. Now it is almost 70.

So girls don't need to be in such a great rush. Besides, Daisy cannot be as good a mother to her future children if she goes right from High school into matrimony.

For example, many of her High school girl friends will go to the university or to Business college. They will thus gain a broader perspective and develop more poise.

Meanwhile, they will have met scores of men and probably dated at least a dozen. This will give them a better understanding of male personality.

Thus, when they marry, they will be better prepared to "front" before their children credibly in PTA meetings, church work, etc.

"BUT I AM shy and don't expect to be a leader in social affairs," Daisy might protest.

That attitude is unfair to her future children. For all children are proud of their mothers when the latter can carry their proper share of civic and church and PTA responsibilities.

You girls don't dare doublecross your future unborn babies by rushing into modern marriage without at least a fair amount of social experience and business judgment.

You should graduate from high school before you marry. And you should preferably have at least one year in a university or in a Business college.

Then you should also work for at least a year so you can learn to budget your own pay check and to buy wisely.

For then you will be far more capable of operating your home on a budget and of getting bargains for your husband's pay check.

ALL HANDS TO THE PLOT!

HomeSick in Homeland—George Brown, of 33 East Main street, South Pottstown, wrote home to his wife that he is enjoying his first return to his native Greece, which he left 38 years ago, but is getting homesick for Pottstown and may cut short the trip that he originally had planned to last until September. The 32-year-old Brown found that his village of Kerami on the island of Metylene was hard hit by an earthquake. While there, he is visiting three sisters and other relatives. His wife commented, "I guess that little village is about half relatives." Mrs. Brown, who was born in America, is staying home to look after the family and business. Brown, on his way to Metylene, stopped in Athens for a visit with his brother. He hadn't seen either the brother or sisters in the 38 years. Brown also has made several side trips, including one to Turkey. He decided to go this year after recovering from a long illness that began with a heart attack in April of 1952. He left the past month, accompanied by three relatives who live in Pottsville.

SPEAKER—Francis Donnon, one-time Pottstown recreation commission chief who put recreation on a big-league basis in Pottstown, has been chosen as one of the speakers for the 35th National Recreation Congress in Philadelphia September 28 to October 5. More than 1200 professional and lay recreation leaders from all parts of the country will gather there to seek answers to recreational problems. Donnon, who lives on Pleasantview road, Sanatoga, is associate consultant of the education-recreation division of the Health and Welfare council, Philadelphia. . . . Sam B. Armbruster, son of Mrs. Robert W. Boorman, 350 Rosedale drive, will be a freshman at Pennsylvania Military college, Chester, in September. He plans to study accounting. He attended both Pottstown Junior and Senior High schools. . . . Martin C. Jones, Douglassville RD 2, is back home after doing Army reserve duty at Fort George G. Meade, Md.

IN MAINE—Jack Ludwig, Third street auto tycoon, is spending a month in the wilds of Maine. His pal Johnnie Hartenstein, the oil man, dashed up to see him over the past week-end, traveling more than 1200 miles by automobile. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Gleim Jr., Wynnewood, are the new owners of the John Wissinger farm at Ruppert road and Pruss Hill road, just east of Sanatoga. Sale of the 90-acre dairy farm was handled by the Henry W. Army Captain Injured Second Time Within Past Month

The two Valley Forge Army hospital patients involved in the two-car crash early yesterday on Route 83 between Spring City and Pottsville were injured seriously, it was reported by the hospital.

Capt. Cloud E. Johnson, 41, Millville, N. J., who was driving a 1952 Oldsmobile sedan, collided with a 1951 sedan driven by Ronald W. Moore, 25, Phoenixville. Both had chest injuries and multiple bruises.

He was X-rayed for possible fractures.

It was the second time Captain Johnson has been injured in an auto crash in the past month. The last June 26, he had cuts on the forehead after a car he was driving collided with another car on Charles-town road, near Phoenixville.

His passenger in yesterday's crash, Lt. Michael Hirschberg, Newburgh, N. Y., a veteran of infantry service in Korea, had a broken jaw, cuts of the chin and

Cool Cook Finds She Just Doesn't Have Time to Let the Heat Beat Her

If any homemaker can be too busy to be bothered by heat, she is Mrs. Russell Ahner, Pottstown RD. 4.

Besides taking care of a house, several acres of land, three children and a husband, Mrs. Ahner holds down a full-time night job as well.

"I just don't have the time," explains Mrs. Ahner, "to let the heat get me down." And she has a number of quick, minimum-cooking recipes to help keep her kitchen livable.

Among the favorites in the Ahner household is baked bean salad, a quick, hearty dish that Mrs. Ahner often serves as a main course at dinner.

"Start with a can of cold baked beans," she instructed, "and empty them into a large salad bowl."

Next she adds two tablespoons of mayonnaise, onions, celery (both minced) and some chopped, hard-boiled eggs, and tosses.

Another favorite "man-size" salad in the Ahner home is macaroni, to which dressing, onion, celery, egg and seasonings are added.

Mrs. Ahner's household routine is a hectic one, since she works nights.

She arises in the early afternoon to do her housework and prepare dinner, leaves for work in the evening. And then, there are always special projects to fill in remaining chunks of time—gardening and, right now, the painting of her house.

Her three children are Janette, 13; Enos, 9; and Lynn, 6.

Daughter Janette, her mother says fondly, is an accomplished young cook in her own right, and is a great help in both keeping house and preparing meals.

Lunches are Janette's specialties, and she enjoys preparing quick, light snacks for the family such as tuna salad, corn fritters, bacon and eggs, toasted cheese and bacon sandwiches.

For the latter, she places a slice of cheese upon a slice of bread, covers with strips of bacon, and places beneath the broiler for one-half minute or until done.

Vegetables in the Ahner menus will largely be from their own garden when it begins to produce regularly, and they are planning such home-grown dishes as fried tomatoes, creamed cabbage, filled peppers and a variety of green salads.

Potatoes, however, are a taboo.

In the summertime meals planned by Mrs. Ahner, who says "in hot weather, potatoes make you warmer."

Another of Mrs. Ahner's tricks for keeping cool is to dress lightly "and to suit myself" as she does her housework. She regrets, though, that their home is not nearer a lake or creek.

"It would be so nice for the children to be close to water," she wistfully mused, "and if we did have a creek, why even I myself would be in it."

All the water used by the Ahners is from a well, and extremely cold, so the family is unable to cool off even by standing under a full-blast hose, she added.

Pies are among Mrs. Ahner's specialties and her favorite dessert. Two of her best are boiled cider and pumpkin pies.

"One trick," she confided, "to keep the crusts from getting soggy is to bake the shell before you add the filling."

For boiled cider pie she starts with one cup of boiled cider, one cup of hot water and 2 1/2 cups of sugar.

Next she adds two tablespoons melted butter, two well-beaten egg yolks and two tablespoons cornstarch, mixed with enough water to make a paste.

"Then," she described, "you just stir in 1/2 teaspoon of salt and cook all the ingredients together until thick and pour it into a baked pie shell."

Her pumpkin pie, however, is her greatest accomplishment, learned from her mother, and she guarantees it as a sure success every time.

In the top of a double boiler she heats all together two cups cooked pumpkin, one quart milk, two tablespoons butter and 1/2 teaspoon salt.

"While that simmers," she described, "take one and 1/4 cups sugar, six tablespoons cornstarch, two or three eggs, a teaspoon cinnamon and mix with a little milk to make a paste."

She adds the latter to the first mixture in the double boiler and cooks until it thickens, cools and pours into the pre-baked pie shell.

Not completely pie-prejudiced, the Ahners also eat cake (quite willingly, laughed Mrs. Ahner), and this is the realm in which Janette presides.

Her favorite is a "midnight chocolate cake" recipe, with which she Relish spread, made on a cool day, is also a "lifesaver," says Mrs. Ahner, on days when it is just too hot to cook.

Not only can it be used as a side dish or a "dunk" for crackers, but she finds it functional as a sandwich spread and salad base.

Major ingredients are twelve green peppers, twelve red peppers, twelve large green tomatoes and four large onions.

These she grinds, pressing out juice, and places in boiling water for about two minutes, then drains.

Next she takes three cups of sugar, 1/2 cup water, one cup vinegar, one cup vinegar, one cup water and 1 teaspoon salt, mixes together, and adds gradually until there is enough juice to cover. The mixture then cooks until done, when it is ready for jarring and sealing.

She starts with a half-cup of shortening and adds one and one-half cups sugar. Then she separates two eggs, saving the whites to add last.

Next ingredient is hot water, one cupful, followed by a half-cupful of cocoa, one and 1/2 cups flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder and 1 teaspoon vanilla.

She stirs thoroughly and bakes until done in an oven heated at 350 degrees.

Relishes also rank high on the list of Ahner family favorite foods and Mrs. Ahner each year puts up a quantity of lima bean relish.

She begins with two quarts of cooked lima beans, adds three bunches of chopped celery, three red, three green and three yellow peppers and (but not necessary) one pint of onions.

Next she takes one cup sugar, one cup vinegar, one cup water and 1 teaspoon salt, mixes together, and adds gradually until there is enough juice to cover. The mixture then cooks until done, when it is ready for jarring and sealing.

Guests Garb in Shorts, Pajamas and Hair Curlers To Attend Nancy Saltzer's Come as You Are Party

"Come as You Are" themed the party given at the home of Nancy Saltzer, 243 Beech street, last night.

Majority of the girls present came in shorts, though two were wearing pajamas and one a house coat. One girl came with her hair done up in curls, while several others arrived in bare feet.

Nancy said she called most of the "is in the afternoon." This accounts," she said, "for the rather natural clothing." Others she called in the early morning and late at night.

Decorations in the house were Chinese lanterns and Chinese umbrellas.

The sixteen guests present received Chinese lanterns as favors.

Highlight of the evening was the game that required Ray L. Saltzer, Nancy's father, to dress in all women's garb and pose as the girls wrote a description of his attire.

Winner of this contest was Fern Royer who received a pair of sun glasses for her sharp eye in the early morning and late at night.

Booby prize was awarded to Judy Shaner. She was given a magnifying glass.

A scavenger hunt was also planned for the evening. Objects searched for by the girls were a purple button, little red fire engine and a Saturday copy of the Mercury.

Bandaid, orange bottle cap, green apple, emery board, Hershey wrapper, children's book and a birthday candle.

After quite a while of unsuccessful searching, the fire engine was found in a hobby shop on Charlotte street.

A change was made by one team. They brought back green pear instead of a green apple.

Pink combs were given to the winning team, with the losers getting "jaw breakers."

A game of "barnyard" was played in which the leader went around and secretly told each girl to make the sound of a different animal at a given signal.

"The catch in the game," Nancy explained, "is that only one girl is told to make a sound, and she brays like a donkey."

Geraldine Smith who will celebrate her birthday Monday was the honor guest of the evening.

The girls all changed to shorts and held a square dance.

Served to the girls was punch, sandwiches on colored bread, potato chips and pretzels.

Present were: Georgeann Jacobs, Peggy Grow, Barbara Grove, Judy Shaner, Doris Seibold, Judy DeSantis, Lorraine Bohner and Fern Royer.

Joan Royer, Marguerite Saylor, Geraldine Smith, Nancy Saltzer and Elsie Ann Diindino.

Louise Kulp Goes Shopping for Pennsylvania Dutch Miniatures And Returns Pushing Baby Carriage—A Gift at Surprise Shower

Louise Kulp went to the home of Mrs. Robert Smith planning to buy miniature Pennsylvania Dutch furniture and came back home pushing a baby carriage.

She was feted with a surprise shower by Mrs. Smith and co-hostess, Mary Focht.

Decorations were pink, blue and white streamers. She was presented with a baby carriage with a doll and rattle inside.

Guests present included: Florence Sassaman, Minnie Shumaker, Thelma Kerr, Elizabeth Dellicker, Mary Focht, Betty Mentzer, Pearl

Fogley, Kay Lawler, Florence Kummerer, Florence Gotta and Millie Strouse.

Don't wait for Christmas to serve hard sauce! You'll find it's delicious with blueberry or peach cobbler. Good, too, with a fresh cherry pudding.

Jane Louise Camaho Weds Gene LeRoy Michaels at Candlelight Rites

Jane Louise Camaho and Gene LeRoy Michaels exchanged wedding promises Friday at 8 p. m. at a candlelight ceremony conducted in St. John's Lutheran church, South Pottstown.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Richard L. Pederman.

He was just ordained this year and was performing his first marriage service.

For the wedding, the groom wore his Coast Guard uniform.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil Camaho, 100 Warwick Settlement.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Michaels, Kewilworth.

Decorations for the church were white lilies on the altar. They were a gift from Mrs. Theodore Kepper and Mrs. T. Henry Boyer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a scalloped brocade lace gown.

It was designed with a circular variety. The bride wore white neckline off the shoulders, with illusion net filling in.

The gown had a tight fitting waist above a full skirt of nylon net over tulle, with a rayon satin slip under it.

There was an insert of brocade lace in the form of a U in the front.

Sleeves were of the short-puffed variety. The bride wore white nylon gloves to the elbow.

Her veil was a tulle of pearlized orange blossoms and seed pearls down the front, and pointed sleeves.

The gown had a bolero jacket. She carried a bouquet of white asters and pink rosebuds.

Best man was Richard Brown. A small reception was held at the couple's new home, 15 East Fourth street, after the ceremony.

The couple took a short honeymoon to Winona Falls, East Stroudsburg for the weekend.

To leave, the bride wore a gray sleeveless cotton dress with white accessories, and the groom wore the bridal bouquet.

Employed at Penney's department store, the bride was graduated from North Coventry High school.

Her husband was graduated from Royersford high school, and is a seaman's apprentice in the Coast Guard, stationed at Gloucester, N. J.

He formerly worked for the Caesar Valley Tree Experts company.

Gift of the groom to the bride was a strand of pearls.

The Case of the Missing Vacation Car; Or, Oh Where Could That Car Have Gone

Vacation time has its fun and woes as Virginia Thomas, Elizabethtown, Tenn., found out.

She was visiting with relations, Mr. and Mrs. David Sheer Sanatoga Trailer park.

While on her vacation, she attended her first major league baseball game in Philadelphia.

All went well until after the game, then Virginia went to where she parked her car. It was gone. Someone had stolen it.

After fearful worries, the car was located by the police at 2963 Stillman street, Philadelphia.

Her very interesting and trying vacation came to an end yesterday morning, when she left for her home in Tennessee.

Lot to Close for Play Day Tomorrow

A number of registrants on the Boyertown playground will travel to Wyomissing tomorrow to participate in the "County Play Day" beginning at 10.30 a. m. The group will leave from the Washington grade school grounds at 9.30 a. m. The local supervisors, Mrs. Kenneth Nye, Harry L. Gilbert and James Quigley, will travel with the youngsters. The local playground will be closed for the day.

Today the Boyertown Midget playground baseball team will travel to Birdsboro to take on their squad at 1 p. m. The winner of this game will take first place in the Southern division of the Berks county league. Boyertown has won four of its first five games.

Gilbert reported last night that entries are being received for the "stock car" races to be held on Thursday July 30, on East Fourth street.

Children of the playground are actively engaged in various phases of craft work according to Miss Quigley.

Lions to Bake Clams In Rain or Sunshine At Park Tomorrow

The annual clam bake for members of the Boyertown Lions club and their wives will be held tomorrow night at 6.30 o'clock at Hickory park. The bake will be served promptly at that time and the event will be held rain or shine.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the form of a family picnic to be held Thursday, Aug. 13, at Hickory park. Another clam bake, for club members only, will be held on Thursday, Aug. 27.

Earl H. Keim, president of the Boyertown Lions Community Ambulance Service corporation, reported that ground has been broken for the new ambulance building and first-aid center to be located on South Chestnut street near East Third street.

Keim added that to date more than $4500 has been received and pledged for the new building. The goal is $23,000.

PASTOR TO BEGIN MISSION WORK

Mennonite Minister Will Leave in August for South America

Henry P. Yoder, pastor of the Mennonite church, North Reading avenue, Boyertown, will leave the latter part of August for Costa Rica where he will attend a language school in San Jose. He will stay there approximately one year in preparation for starting pioneer mission work in Cuba.

Yoder presently resides with his wife, Mildred and their son, Allan, at 219 East Third street, Boyertown. Mrs. Yoder is the former Mildred Clemens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clemens, Souderton.

After Yoder completes his course in San Jose, the family will return home for a month and then proceed to Cuba to start their denomination's work. He is one of six persons who is being sent from the United States by their church.

Yoder became pastor of the local Mennonite church in July, 1951. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Yoder.

No replacement has yet been announced to succeed Yoder as pastor of the local church.

Joint School Committee Postpones Talks Tonight

A meeting of the Boyertown Joint High school committee, originally scheduled for tonight, has been rescheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 5 at 8 p. m. in the Boyertown Joint High school library, according to an announcement made yesterday by George B. Swinehart, supervising principal.

President Robert M. Harbster, will be in charge at that time.

DEATHS - FUNERALS

Services for EDWIN R. YODER, husband of the late Ella (Stauffer) Yoder, 399 WEST PHILADELPHIA AVENUE, BOYERTOWN, were held yesterday at 2 p. m. from a funeral home at 124 West Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown.

The Rev. Luther Lee Lengel, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Lobachville, officiated.

Interment was made in the Lobachville cemetery.

Bearers, members of the Liberty Fire company, New Berlinville, were Harold Gehrs, Lester L. Zern, Carl Stahl, Peter Osman, Walter Frain and James Roberts.

North Carolina claims more miles of inland waterway than any other state of the United States.

CAMP COOK — Sir John Barbiroli, taking time from the podium at the Theater Royal, Fairbridge, Southern Rhodesia, cooks sausages over a barbecue fire on Fairbridge school grounds.

Tufts of Hair Found During Probe Into 3 Missing Hunters

GASPE, Que., July 21 (AP) — Small tufts of hair, differing in color and of bloodstained underwear and a single bone were found today by Provincial police in the wild bush country where three American bear hunters disappeared six weeks ago.

The hair and bone are believed to be human. Several tufts of black hair were discovered, only one or two of light brown hair.

The new discoveries in the bizarre mystery were made near the same camp site where parts of a human skeleton, the skull missing and the bones showing evidence of having been gnawed, were found several days ago.

From the earlier discoveries it is believed one of the three hunters from Hollidaysburg, has been accounted for. The remains are believed to be those of 17-year-old Richard Lindsey. What happened to his father, Eugene Lindsey, 45, and to Fred Claar, 20, remained a mystery.

Rescue Team Hauls Climber to Safety

CHAMONIX, France, July 21 (AP) — Georges Barbacki, the human pendulum, was hauled to safety from a chasm on Mont Blanc today.

Swept off his feet by a sudden storm which hurled his climbing partner to death Saturday, Barbacki dangled helplessly over the chasm at the end of his guide rope for a time—just how long was not certain.

After three days and nights, daring mountaineers finally reached him today and found him propped against a ledge.

The rescue was effected by instructors from the National Ski and Mountain Climbing school at Les Praz, who braved a difficult trail and the constant threat of avalanches to bring the young French university student down from a promontory called the Fool's Needle.

The party found Barbacki asleep, slack in the rope and propped against a ledge after long hours of wakefulness over the dizzying chasm.

He was brought into Chamonix, where his condition was described as satisfactory. He was only slightly injured in the fall that swung him between life and death, and he seemed to have suffered no serious ill effects from his ordeal.

Legion Post Plans Two Social Meetings

Plans for two special gatherings were made last night at a meeting of the Milton-Simms American Legion Post 955. Resie Farmer, adjutant, reported.

The first event will be a chicken dinner beginning at 3 p. m. Saturday. This will be held at 702 North Adams street, home of Charles Rhoads, post finance officer.

An outing has also been set for Sept. 6 at Hartenstein's grove.

One new member, Ernest Williams, was inducted at last night's meeting at the Bethany Recreation center. Rhoads was in charge of the meeting.

Highest Honor Awarded State Scout at Jamboree

JAMBOREE CITY, Calif., July 21 (AP) — Eagle Scout Richard B. Helt, 14, Frackville, high school Freshman, won scouting's highest award today, the Gold Honor medal for saving the life of a 7-year-old boy who had broken through thin ice on Wagner's dam at Frackville the past Jan. 20.

Helt plunged into the icy waters and held young John Dubrosky above the surface until help arrived.

Helt's Gold Honor award was announced at the Boy Scout Jamboree here by Lex R. Lucas, chairman of the Scouts National Court of Honor.

Improvement Noted In Victim of Fall At Unfinished House

Some improvement was noted yesterday in the condition of James Mock, 29, Laureldale, who suffered spinal injuries Tuesday in a fall at an unfinished New Hanover house on which he was working.

Doctors at Reading hospital last night reported "some recovery" from the paralysis which struck Mock from the waist down as a result of the injuries.

Hospital officials said X-ray studies of the injury are being continued.

Mock, a worker for a Reading insulation company, was working on the second story of a new house being built near the intersection of Route 663 and Swamp pike.

The second-story flooring had not been laid over the ceiling of the first floor. Mock apparently stepped on the ceiling, between the rafters, and fell to the first floor. He was taken to Pottstown hospital and sent directly to Reading hospital.

White Whale Season Starts in Manitoba

OTTAWA, July 21 (AP)—The white whale season starts in Manitoba this month, and later in the season Manitobans likely will enjoy thick whale steaks as they have done in the past two years.

The white whale, or beluga, breeds from March to May and disports itself at the mouth of the Churchill river in northern Manitoba. The past year a fish and whale products company operating from Churchill put 4000 pounds of beluga steak on the Manitoba market.

"It tastes like beefsteak, with a fish flavor," says a spokesman in the federal fisheries department.

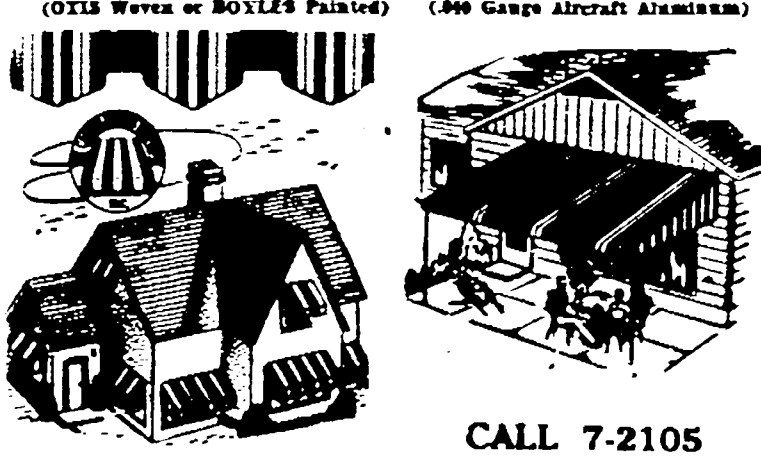

The official said there was "a possible future market" for the whale steaks, but that Manitobans had not exactly stormed meat counters when it was last offered.

"Like so many foods, people must develop a taste," he said.

Boy Injured at Play In House Accident

An accident in a vacant house caused serious injury to the wrist and a 10-year-old Hilldale youngster early last night.

Joseph Whitfield Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Whitfield Sr., of 22-C, Road A, Hilldale, was admitted to Memorial hospital at 8:30 o'clock with a severed tendon of the left wrist.

At the time of the accident, young Whitfield was playing in an empty house next door. He was standing on a small wagon while trying to place a curtain over a window.

As he reached up, he lost his balance and fell, sending his hand through the window pane.

His condition last night was reported as good by hospital attendants.

Japanese Village Has Own Symphony

TAKASAKI, Japan, July 21 (AP)—Tucked away in a picturesque valley amidst the mountains of central Japan is this small rural community which supports one of the nation's five symphony orchestras.

The other four are in Tokyo and Osaka, Japan's two largest cities. Takasaki's residents enthusiastically support a 20-piece wind and string orchestra which plays Western symphonic music, a type which is less than 100 years old in Japan.

Its Guma (Prefecture) Philharmonic orchestra was organized in December, 1945, by local musicians reinforced by others displaced from war-ravaged Tokyo. The orchestra has had its ups and downs but it is fiddling away strongly now while many other symphony orchestras formed in larger and more cultural cities have folded.

Build A Basement Recreation Room

To Beat the Heat This Summer

Your basement is always cooler—often 10° to 15°—than your living quarters. Why not stop wishing you could "hole up" down there on sweltering days and evenings? You can make the wish come true by building (or having someone help you build) a cool basement recreation room. It will provide welcome comfort in summer and endless pleasure for family and friends the year round.

You can use inexpensive wood-grained wallboard and easy-to-install ceiling tile. Or you may prefer plywood or choice paneling woods—we have an ample stock of those too. Ask about our easy payment plan.

Entire job as low as $5.00 per month

INSULATION . . . Another Good Beat-the-Heat Project

Loose fill insulation, poured between ceiling joists and studs, and insulation batts that fit snugly in the same spaces are both easy do-it-yourself projects. Or you may wish to choose some other insulation material that may offer you special advantages.

Easy financing for an average 6-room house as low as $5.00 per month.

DECORATIVE WALLBOARD. Attractive, inexpensive, easy to work with. Plenty of colors and designs to choose from.

Sq. ft. 12c

PLYWOOD. This versatile material is always good. Decorative finish. Easy to use. Several grades and thicknesses.

Sq. ft. 16c

CURING TILE. Practical, inexpensive, sound absorbing. Also reflects light. Just right for a basement "club" room.

Sq. ft. 12c

WHIRL-AROUND—Conductor and "gripman" whirl their cable car around on turntable at Market and Powell streets. Passengers sometimes help.

San Francisco Cable Cars to Remain, Clang Merrily on-Everybody's Happy

By BOB J. BURANDT
(Central Press Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO—Can tourists look forward this Summer—and in the years to come—to the enchanting experience of a bouncy ride on the quaint, rattle-te-bang cable cars which scale the steep hills of this city by the Golden Gate?

The answer to this question is an emphatic "Yes."

Despite the efforts of certain factions here several years ago to replace the cable cars with motor buses—and a subsequent wobbly financial situation, the brave little vehicles have come through with flying colors.

There is little possibility that anybody here will ever again be so foolhardy as to suggest that the cable cars be junked. For they are, without a doubt, the public transportation darlings of tourists as well as all San Franciscans.

YES THERE'S STILL "music in the air" in San Francisco—it's the cheery clanging of the cable car bells through sunshine or fog—as the conductor calls "Kout for the curve!"

Fascinating to the newcomer or tourist is the "gripman" as he pulls back his lever, squeezing a pincer "grip" on the endless moving cable under the iron slot in the street, causing the car to move immediately from dead stop to full speed.

An amiable old cablecar conductor on the Jackson street line put it this way, as his car rocketed jauntily up the steep slopes of Russian Hill:

"Would Londoners tear down the House of Parliament or eliminate the changing of the guard at Buckingham palace? Would Italy destroy the famous Leaning Tower of Pisa; or would France dismantle the Eiffel Tower?"

"Neither would any true San Franciscan ever want to see the cable cars stop running—for without them, this just wouldn't be San Francisco any more."

PURE SENTIMENT is not the only value attached to the cable cars. Ever since Rudyard Kipling revealed in the experience of riding them 64 years ago (in 1889 when he was on a visit here from India), they have been internationally famed as a "must" tourist attraction.

All of this was begun by a Scotsman named Andrew Hallidie, who developed the world's first passenger-carrying cable car in San Francisco 80 years ago.

The first operation, the Clay street line, running up the northern side of Nob Hill, started regular service Aug. 1, 1873. By 1890, 600 cable cars belonging to 10 different companies were operating on 55 miles of double track.

The cable car had a great influence in the growth of the city. Before its coming, the general population trend was to the south of Market street.

With its advent residents migrated to the steep hills and into the valleys beyond—a movement which continues even today through use of the automobile.

THE CITY'S five cable car lines—under one ownership for the first time in history, have been progressively rehabilitated under the watchful guardian angelship of the public utilities commission, and

Two Persons Treated After Attack by Dogs

A little finger and an upper right leg were targets of hungry canines yesterday.

Thomas Idell, 19, of 933 Queen street was treated in Memorial hospital dispensary yesterday afternoon for a bite in his little finger.

He was bitten by a stray dog Ernest Leidenberger, 31, Long view and Church roads, Linfield, exposed a little more for his at tacker.

He also was treated at Memorial for a bite above the right knee.

Coast Guard Aids Sailor

CLEVELAND, July 21 (P)—The Coast Guard cutter Kaw raced 20 miles into Lake Erie today and removed from a tugboat a crewman stricken with blood poison ing.

The crewman, John Wernhoff, 29, of Rutland, Vt., was taken to City hospital here.

San Francisco Cable Cars to Remain, Clang Merrily on-Everybody's Happy

service to the public has been improved.

The huge turntable at the intersection of Market and Powell streets which was installed in 1888 (the same one Kipling walked across when he "rode the cables" in 1889) has been replaced with a new one.

Everything else is about the same. Some passengers still ride precariously on the outside running boards with their backs almost scraping the passing traffic stream, and hang by one arm to a post while holding a newspaper to their eyes with the other.

Patrons also still squeeze into the cars like sardines during rush hours confronting the conductor with a solid wall of humanity through which he must forcibly dig a hole in order to go through the car to collect fares.

At the end of the Powell street line you can still buy a steaming red, fresh cooked Pacific crab at Fisherman's Wharf and eat it as the car heads back over Nob Hill.

That million dollar view of the bay is still waiting, too, along the Hyde street line on the far slope of Russian hill that looks to Alcatraz and the Golden Gate. Only now the ride costs you 16 cents instead of a dime. However, it's still the world's biggest bargain.

OBITUARIES

HORACE INGRAM, 64, died suddenly Monday night in the MOTEL WASHINGTON, MAIN STREET, BIRDSBORO, where he had lived for a number of years.

A son of the late Clyde and Alice (Thomas) Ingram, he worked at his regular job for 18 hours on Monday at the John T. Dyer Quarry company, Monocacy.

Berk County Coroner Paul R. Good reported he would issue a certificate of death due to natural causes.

Ingram had worked at the quarry for the past 16 years.

He was a member of the Birdsboro Sportsmen's club, the Birdsboro Orioles Home association, and the Monarch Fire company, Monocacy.

His wife, Mary (Smiles) Ingram died 24 years ago.

He is survived by eight children: Elizabeth A. Hunsinger, Douglassville RD 2; Calvin E. Ingram, 27 East Third street, Margarete, wife of Jacob Klein, Pottstown RD 2; Myrtle, wife of Ernest Pollick, Phoenixville; George P. Ingram, Birdsboro, Fondella M. wife of Ralph Hays, Pottstown RD 1; Marie, wife of Victor Peterson, Monocacy Station, and Horace Ingram Jr., Douglassville.

Also surviving are 16 grandchildren and six great grandchildren; a brother, David, New York city; and two sisters, Mrs. Catherine Bean, Pottstown RD 2, and Mrs. Marion Meyers Bloomsburg, Columbia county.

Services will be held in the Shallop Funeral home, 433 East First street, Birdsboro, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Officiating will be the Rev. Charles Truax, pastor of Cedarville Methodist church.

Interment will be in Temple Methodist cemetery near Unionville.

JOHN HOOPER, 51, husband of Grace (Keller) Hooper, 133 WALNUT STREET, died yesterday afternoon at Memorial hospital.

He was born in Mt. Carmel and lived there all his life before moving to Pottstown three years ago. He was employed by the Firestone Tire and Rubber company.

Survivors are two sons, William, of Philadelphia, and James, of Camden, N. J.

Funeral services, in charge of the Houck funeral home, 112 North Washington street, will be announced later.

JOSEPH HUSSAR, 80, husband of Olga Hussar, of BARTO RD 1, died at the Memorial hospital last night at 10:10 o'clock.

He was admitted to the hospital at 5:50 o'clock as a medical patient.

Arrangements are in charge of Schwenk Funeral home, Boyertown.

Britain Asks Communists To Release Businessman

LONDON, July 21 (P)—Diplomatic officials said today Britain has made a new bid to the Communist Hungarian government for the release of Edgar Sanders, British businessman imprisoned by the Budapest regime on espionage charges.

The informants said the appeal was made to the government of Hungary's new premier, Imre Nagy, who recently promised an amnesty for "certain criminals."

Sanders was sentenced to 15 years in 1950. An American business man sentenced at the same time on similar charges, Robert A. Vogeler, was released by Hungary after the United States made some concessions.

Bill Passed to Halt Fees For Cops Making Arrests

HARRISBURG, July 21 (P)—The House tonight passed a bill unanimously to prohibit the salaries of local police officers from being set according to the number of fees they collect.

The bill, which goes to the Senate, is designed to prevent the practice of paying a policeman in a municipality or township on the basis of the number of arrests he makes.

Nagy, who recently promised an amnesty for "certain criminals," Sanders was sentenced to 15 years in 1950. An American business man sentenced at the same time on similar charges, Robert A. Vogeler, was released by Hungary after the United States made some concessions.

FIRE IS QUELLED BY USE OF SAND

Heat Reported Cause Of Blazing Kerosene

A pile of building sand saved the day when kerosene from a drum spilled in a garage adjoining a grocery store at Halfway House yesterday at noon.

The brief, bright blaze was put out by Albert G. Volz, owner of Halfway House restaurant, and other men in the restaurant. They smothered it with buckets of sand from a pile Volz had bought for cement work.

Volz, who also owns the grocery and garage on the south side of the restaurant, said he believed the day's heat had caused the kerosene to ignite.

The fire was discovered by Stephen Betz Jr., young son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Betz, the grocery's owners, who are on vacation. Edward Quigley, 362 State street, is operating it in their absence.

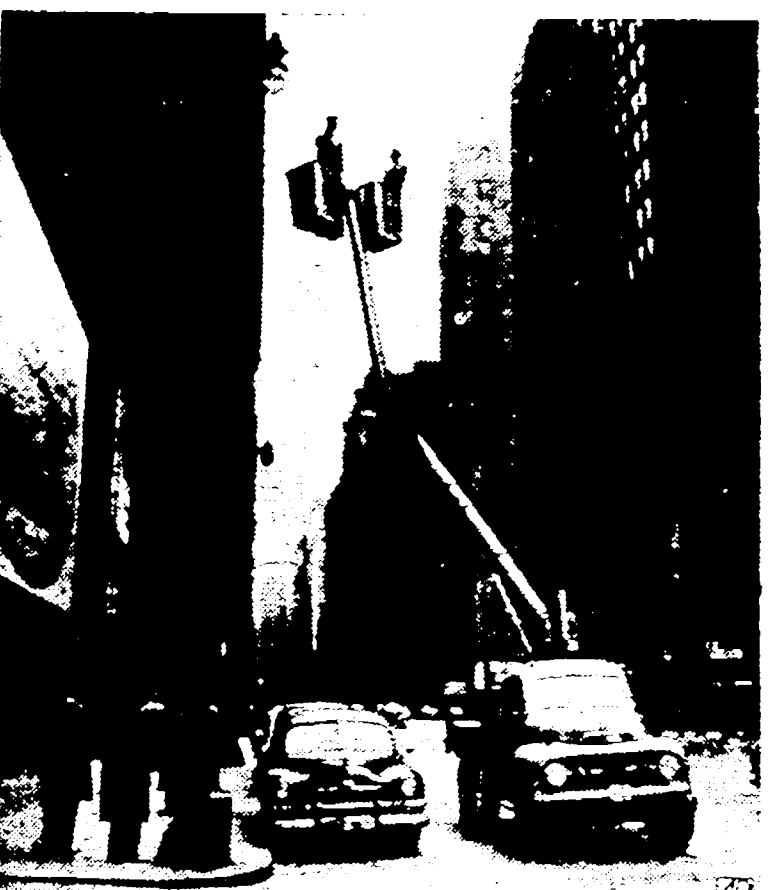

The boy and Charles Honafius, 15, who lives nearby, summoned men from the restaurant.

PHILADELPHIA Steam Fire Engine company sent a pumper driven by Edward Scheetz. He checked the drum but did not have to go into service.

Volz estimated that damage to floor boards and ceiling scorched by the flame would be about $25.

Quigley, who had been in the restaurant when the fire broke out, joined in fighting the blaze.

A Good Will ambulance also answered the alarm.

Run Over by Wagon, Quarantine to End Boy Held in Hospital At Pennhurst School

A nine-year-old Pottstown RD 2 boy appears to have escaped injury early last night when a hay wagon ran over him.

The youngster, Barry Koehn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Koehn, was admitted to Memorial hospital at 7:20 p. m.

He was immediately X-rayed, but physicians found no injuries. Attendants reported that he will remain in the hospital for at least 24 hours for observation. His condition was listed as good.

According to the boy's mother, two wheels of a hay wagon ran over his pelvic bone. At the time of the mishap, young Barry was visiting at the farm of Harry Bickel, Pottstown RD 2.

Quarantine for the 349 patients at Pennhurst State school, near Spring City, will end Aug. 5. It was announced yesterday by W. A. Phillips, superintendent.

The quarantine was imposed the past February after an outbreak of infectious hepatitis, an inflammation of the liver that causes jaundice.

Altogether, 425 persons at Pennhurst contracted hepatitis, the superintendent reported, but there now are only six cases.

Phillips said a team of physicians led by Dr. W. A. Phillips, regional, senior physician at Pennhurst, checked the patients for the use of common bathroom.

During the quarantine, the school was closed to visitors and guides about the school were not allowed.

Contracts Awarded For School Goods

Contracts were awarded for school furniture, cafeteria furniture and kitchen equipment by the New Hanover-Upper Frederick school authority. Carl Hartenstein, secretary, reported last night.

The equipment is for use in the new four-district school at New Hanover square. The school will serve pupils from the First to the Sixth grades from New Hanover and Upper Frederick township and Swamp and Fagleyville independent districts.

The bids were awarded Tuesday night from a total of 23 bids offered on the equipment. Authority members met in the Church school of Obelisk with Roger Moyer, chairman, in charge.

Insects and rodents destroy about five per cent of the stored grain in the United States each year.

NEW RED POWER — Peter Pospelov, secretary of the Central committee of the Communist party, apparently has become a powerful person in the new Soviet lineup. Radio Moscow attested to his importance by announcing his presence when action was taken against MirDjafar A. Bagirov, prime minister of Azerbaijan, who was expelled from the party and from his high post.

66 Club Members Tour Doepler-Jarvis

Sixty-six members of the Kiwanis club last night made a tour of the Doepler-Jarvis corporation.

Prior to the tour, the group attended a dinner meeting in the plant cafeteria where they also saw a 30-minute motion picture on the history of the casting and its application to modern day practices.

After the movie, the members formed groups and, under the leadership of Program Chairman Roy Bush, the tour of the plant began.

During a short business meeting, Raymond Detterer, vice president, presided in the absence of President William D. Mower, who is on vacation.

Building to Be Discussed By New Hanover Grange

Decision on what is to be done to the Fagleyville one-room school house may be reached at tonight's meeting of the New Hanover Grange which will be held at 8:15 o'clock in the old Grange hall.

The group recently purchased the school house with the intention of converting it into a regular meeting hall.

During the literary portion of the meeting, Mrs. Beatrice Smole, chairman, reported that a number of Grange members have been called on to give several surprise programs.

Vacationing With Mercury Readers

By THE VACATION EDITOR
(Mercury Staff Writer)

It was snowing lightly in Titlow's bend. A cutting west wind knifed through the trees.

Ginger Draper looked out through the frosty window and sighed at the swirling snow. Old Man Winter was showing off. His icy tongue was in evidence everywhere.

And oh how Ginger hated winter. She was thinking now of those long Summer evenings when she used to stretch her tanned legs on the beach.

But her legs were so white now and she had a cold. She couldn't wait for Summer, for her vacation in July.

As she looked out into the frosty afternoon she promised herself a decent trip on her vacation. The past two years she had wasted her two weeks away from the office.

FEW POTTSTONIANS are wasting their vacations. Most of them are taking advantage of the modern roads and modern cars and hitting the scenic trails of the most accessible country in the world.

America is big and appealing, friendly and very easy to get to know.

If you let vacation after vacation go without taking advantage of America's beauty you will become rutted in one community. You become a provincial. You will know only one town, one state, and just one set of values.

Remember Mr. and Mrs. Pottstown, it isn't as hot every place as it is here. And anyway the heat isn't too bad when you don't have to work.

There's no cooking, no cleaning and no lawn-mowing on vacation.

JOLINE, Gordon and Gregory Shinn are finding things warm but pleasant at Wildwood, N. J., by the sea.

They wrote, "Hello Everyone—Having a wonderful time here. The water is very warm."

Mrs. Russel Sides and Mrs. Ada Hummel, visiting Mrs. Sides son, Kenneth, in Tacoma, Wash., wrote, "We made a circular trip out here. We stopped to see another son, Robert, in Enid, Okla. We have visited many interesting places. We went to Paradise lodge, which has an elevation of 5500 feet, one-third the way up Mt. Rainier."

Their card showed the Cushman hospital, Tacoma, Wash.

Jake and Lolly Cepko and children wrote from Wildwood, "We're spending a few days here and having a wonderful time."

A contented couple wrote from Atlantic City, "Dear Editor—Having a wonderful time. The water is wet. We wish all our friends were here with us."

The greeting was signed by Joyce "Sapphire" Hall and Richard Derr Kulp.

MR. AND MRS. George Krepps and Barbara and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Miller, Elverson RD 1, wrote from Lincoln Caverns, near Huntingdon, in Western Pennsylvania.

A greeting from Lynn Prizer, South Pottstown, was mailed from near Elverson, with the following message, "Dear Editor—Spending two weeks at Camp Wood Haven."

Don't forget your friends when you go away on vacation. Send a card to The Mercury Vacation Editor. He will reprint your message, where all your cronies can see it.

Hoover Indicates He Would Serve on Study Commission

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—Congress members said today that former President Hoover has indicated willingness to serve as chairman of a new commission on organization of the executive branch of the Government.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Representative Brown (R-Ohio) gave newsmen the information as they left a White House luncheon given by President Eisenhower.

The purpose of the session was to discuss plans for operation of the commission.

Hoover was present at today's White House luncheon.

At Eisenhower's request, Congress recently enacted legislation to create a 12-member bipartisan commission to study government operation. The new unit would have much broader authority than the old Hoover commission of the Truman Administration.

When the Hoover study commission was created by Congress in 1947, the former President said in agreeing to serve as chairman that it would be his last public service.

Asked today whether he would be a member of the new group, the 78-year-old Hoover replied: "I believe so."

Asked then whether he would be chairman of the commission, Hoover said it would be up to the members to decide that.

1000 CHINESE STRIKE AT ROK POSITIONS

Reds Hit Mile Sector On East-Central Front

SIX CLASHES REPORTED AT MARINES OUTPOSTS

SEOUL, Wednesday, July 22 — About 1000 Chinese Reds early today struck at South Korean positions along a one-mile sector of the Korean East-Central front.

The Reds—attacking after comparatively small-scale clashes—hit ROK positions west of the Kumsong river bend in the early morning darkness.

First details of the action were sketchy. It was not known immediately whether it was continuing.

Elsewhere on the rain-soaked battlefield only small skirmishes were reported as Korea awaited an armistice in the three-year-old war.

Earlier on the Kumbwa-Kumsong area on the East-Central front, scene of the past week's smashing Chinese Communist offensive, Associated Press War Correspondent John Randolph reported a dozen small clashes in the area northeast of Kumbwa.

Randolph said the largest Red force engaged by Allied infantry was two platoons—up to 75 men—and described the actions as "routine patrol and probing activity with no significance."

ALLIED BIG GUNS shelled six Red tanks spotted north of White Horse mountain in the Chorwon sector last night and touched off several secondary explosions. Extent of the damage to the tanks or ammunition supplies was not reported by artillery observers.

On the Western front, six small fights were reported in the sector where Chinese Reds overran outposts Berlin and East Berlin Monday night.

At Panmunjom, where Communist laborers last night worked under floodlights to rush completion of "Armistice Hall," Allied and Red staff officers met again today to iron out details for an armistice signing that could come within a week.

High Court Justice Divorced by Wife

BAKER, Ore., July 21 — Mildred Douglas won an uncontested divorce today from her husband, Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas. She charged desertion.

Attorneys said the couple had been separated more than two years and on June 2 had reached agreement on a property settlement and a continued support for Mrs. Douglas.

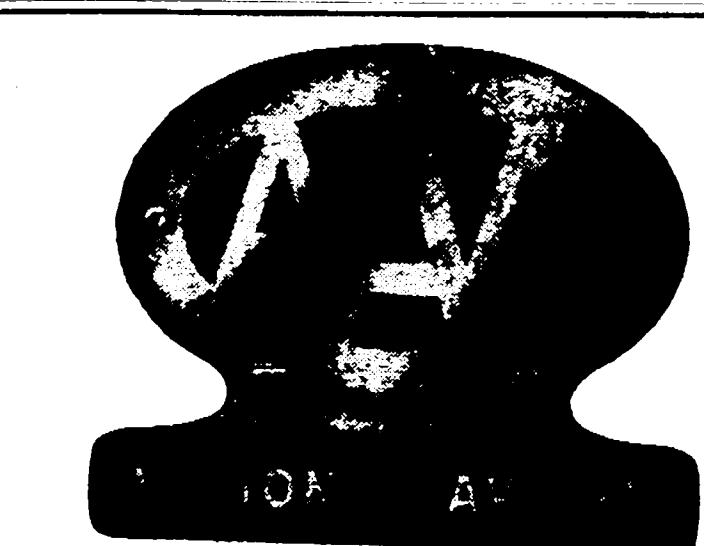

Circuit Judge Forrest L. Hubbard granted the divorce 30 minutes after the action was filed here this morning. Terms of the property settlement were not made public but attorneys said it was a "very fair" arrangement.

In the suit Mrs. Douglas said that her husband "left the plaintiff abandoned and alone while engaged in his work and in travels to remote places in the world."

They were married at La Grande, Ore., in 1923 and have two children, a son and a daughter, both now grown.

Bishop Oxnam Blasts Red Probers, States He Is Opposed to Communism

US Renews Effort To Settle ROK Objections

WASHINGTON, July 21 — The United States today made a new effort to settle last minute South Korean objections to the truce terms for ending the fighting in Korea.

A message from the State department to Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs in Korea was said to be aimed at clarifying points raised by South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai.

The foreign minister told newsmen yesterday in Korea that the ROK Government was insisting on assurances covering Korean unification and measures to be taken by the United States in event of renewal of Communist aggression.

Briggs is the intermediary between Washington and Seoul. The latest message in the frequent exchange between Washington and Seoul was dispatched after Secretary of State Dulles detailed the current American position on the Korean truce negotiations.

Six East German Officials Arrested As 'Red Hilde' Assumes New Position

BERLIN, July 21 — Six important officials of the Communist East German Justice Ministry, now ruled by hardboiled "Red Hilde" Benjamin, have been arrested on her direct orders, the Northwest German radio said tonight.

Mrs. Benjamin, who sentenced many persons to death or life imprisonment while she was vice-president of the East German Supreme court, took over the justice ministry the past week after its former chief, Max Fechner, was jailed. She said Fechner had tried to justify "as a mere strike a Fascist putsch against the State."

He was the highest Red official in the Soviet occupation zone to be purged after the June 17 riots and strikes.

The Northwest German radio broadcast said those arrested in the justice ministry included two department chiefs, Dr. H. Reinartz and Fritz Boehme. In addition, the Communist prosecutor at Halle, Werner Kamprad, was reported dismissed in disgrace for having shown leniency to the strikers.

Halle was the scene of some of the heaviest anti-Communist fighting June 17. The Communist political prison there was stormed. One of the woman inmates who was liberated afterward was executed by the Red Government.

back to a series of questions that kept him in the witness chair well into the night.

A crowd of 500 overflowed the big committee room and punctuated the dramatic hearing with repeated applause for the bishop and jeers for the committee members.

Bishop Oxnam acknowledged that he belonged to some organizations that since have been cited as subversive, but he said they hadn't been cited when he was connected with them and that if any of them were subversive, he had no such knowledge when he joined.

The Bishop declared, too, that a lot of things about him in the Most of the protracted question and answer session involved the Communist front organization with which the Bishop was alleged to have connections. But now and then they got sidetracked on religious matters and even the McCarran-Walter Immigration law.

Representative Walker (D-Pa.) jumped on Bishop Oxnam about the act of which Walker was co-author.

He said the Boston Herald of March 13, 1951, quoted the Bishop as saying the law was "assiminate and 'you cannot fight totalitarianism with measures of totalitarian nature.'"

"What useful purpose were you serving," Walker roared, "by making an unjustified and unwarranted attack on the law of this land?"

BISHOP OXNAM said with due respect to reporters, few of them take short hand and he would like to check his own records of his speech.

"Did you make that statement?" Walker pressed.

"I do not know," the bishop replied.

"Well, look at it," the congressman barked, thrusting the clipping at him.

"I don't want to look at it," Bishop Oxnam answered. "I want to look at the speech I have of record."

He said he would be glad to feely when he has made the check.

"Could you have taken the position that you were opposed to the immigration policy of the United States because you were not concerned with how many Communists can come into this country," Walker asked.

The bishop clenched his hands. He said he was going to try to answer calmly. He paused a moment, then said he had stated before that he considers Communism a conspiracy. He said he is fundamentally opposed to Communism and always has been. He said the churches are moving in on Communism.

"I am fundamentally opposed to the whole Communist movement and would do everything in the world in my power to keep them out," he roared.

As for those files on him, the

TRUCK WEIGHT, FEPC MEASURES KILLED IN STATE

Constitution Change To Go Before Voters

HARRISBURG, July 21 — A joint House-Senate committee agreed today to let the voters of Pennsylvania decide at the November election if they want a new constitution for the State.

The agreement apparently ended a session-long dispute over constitutional revision since reports of conference committees usually are approved when submitted to the respective branches.

As the General Assembly drove ahead to wind up the long 1953 session on Saturday Senate committee killed Fair Employment Practices and Increased Truck Weight legislation. Both were major controversies.

The Senate Judiciary General committee refused 15-8 to report for a Senate vote the House-passed measure banning discrimination in jobs or union membership because of race, color or creed.

That was the measure which Gov. John S. Fine tried to keep from the Judiciary general committee. The governor, who backed FEPC legislation strongly, said the committee was "notoriously packed" against it. Chairman John M. Walker (R-Allegheny) said the bill was given "very fair and impartial consideration."

A short time later the Senate Highways committee turned thumbs down on an industry-backed bill to increase maximum weight of commonly used trucks from 45,000 to 60,000 pounds. That committee vote was 17-7.

Bishop said they contained both truths and untruths and demanded they be cleaned up.

Bishop Oxnam bristled at efforts to dig 30 years into his past.

Some of it related to his early days in California when the IWW—International Workers of the World—were active.

The hearing was held at Bishop Oxnam's request. He said he wanted to "secure redress for the damage done me" by release of unverified information from the committee files.

50-Year Absentee Leaves Home Again

NEW YORK, July 21 — Charles Stickle, a modern Odysseus who recently returned to his family after a 50-year absence, has gone away again.

His daughter, Mrs. Pearl Luning, said today the family was "certainly hoping" that he would make good on a promise to "be back for Christmas."

Stickle, a spry, little 81-year-old man, went off to Detroit just six days after reappearing from his half century begira.

"He's lived out there (in Detroit) for 40 years you know," Mrs. Luning said equally in reply to a reporter's questions, "and one can't just go away and leave things. He certainly knows we want him to live with us."

A SOMEWHAT different viewpoint was expressed by Stickle when the New York World-Telegram and Sun reached him by telephone in Detroit.

He admitted missing his family all right and said it "might be

CZECHS PROTEST BALLOON DROP

Freedom Leaflets Blasted As Provocative Action

MUNICH, Germany, July 21 — Communist Czechoslovakia today denounced a recent freedom balloon barrage from the West as a "provocative action designed to increase the cold war." American sponsors of the balloon barrage were delighted at the reaction.

"This shows that the 'winds of freedom' operation was very effective," said a spokesman for Radio Free Europe. "We always get such a reaction when we hit the target."

Thousands of leaflets urging the Czechs to resist their Red leaders were ballooned eastward into Czechoslovakia from Bavarian soil the night of July 12 by the American-sponsored Crusade for Freedom committee. The "winds of freedom" project calls for 12 million messages to be ballooned into Czechoslovakia, one for every person in the country.

The Prague radio announced the Czechoslovakia government had handed the US legation in Prague a note protesting this operation "by US citizens in Bavaria—a territory presently under American control."

The protest was reported addressed to US High Commissioner James B. Conant. High commission officials in Bonn said it had not yet been received there. It normally would be sent to the US State department in Washington, they said.

Little League Player Turns in Uniform As Disease Strikes

STAMFORD, Conn., July 21—For two years Ronald Sunderman, 12, has been an outstanding star on the Stamford Lions club Little League baseball team.

The past November he became ill of lymphosarcoma, a form of cancer, and underwent a major operation for the removal of a growth on his throat.

Undaunted, he resumed playing ball this Spring, even hit a triple his first time at bat.

But yesterday Ronald had to admit he was growing too weak and he told his father, Henry, to turn in his uniform and equipment "so that some other boy could use them."

The Lions club has started "The Ronnie Fund" to help pay medical expenses. It already has $100 and other organizations and friends are contributing more.

SHADES OF GLORY — One of Pottstown High's greatest football squads—if not the greatest—the 1946 aggregation that won nine and lost one, held a reunion picnic the past Sunday . . . Ten members of the team and the coaches attended and reminisced as they watched films of all the games that year . . .

Co-captains DAVE DETAR and DEACON REINHART headed arrangements for the affair . . . The others who were present: DAVE TOWERS, DON WENKICH, LEN BERNHARDT, JOE "BINKY" HAHN, JIM LONGACRE, TOM WEBER, TOM REIDENOUR and CARL HARP . . .

REEB MEYERS, ED GOOD, BILL MCCABE and MORRIS GRIGG, the coaches were also there wished they had some players of the same size and ability ready to go this fall . . . Most of the players and coaches had their wives with them for the family picnic . . .

Nine of the members on that team are now in the service. They are HENRY A. ADAMS, BOB MARTZ, BOB RUSSELL, PETE SHANER, DAVE KERR, BOB DOBRY, BOB MAUGER, BOB CALVARIO, JOHN CELANI and manager HERB GABEL . . .

Among the missing who are still around town are DAN LUDWIG, JOHN KOCON, GENE FECAK, CARL YEAGLE, PAUL NEUSCHWANDER, HOWIE FIELDS, BOB BRUENINGER, DICK UMSTEAD, FRANK FORMANDO, HAROLD BEGEL and JACK BAIRD . . .

The mystery of how the Trojans lost the final game of the season to Downingtown, 26-12, was rehearsed . . . The best reason heard was "Deac Reinhart got to bed early — never again" . . .

FLAGG MANAGER AL RAMSDELL deserves a pat for being so tolerant on Monday night while STAN WAYOCK rounded up a ninth man for his Jacobs team in the CIL . . . Too often the well-stocked teams will forfeit the minute the deadline draws near and the opposition is shy a player or two . . . Forfeits are necessary but the boys want to play ball and deadlines are quite elastic when all parties concerned are a little patient . . .

He never before took part in actual swim competition . . . Good news comes from Brunswick, Ga., where MIKE KRICKZY won the first game he pitched in the minor leagues . . . ED GOOD received a brief communique from Mike about the win, but no details . . .

DICK POWELL is riding the high seas in the merchant marines . . . He stopped off in Venezuela recently and dropped the boys back home a card . . . Back in the UAW ranks last night was SHADOW HOFFMAN, a sicklist casualty for more than three weeks with a severe case of ivy poison . . .

He also had his foot stepped upon by a horse, but the "itch" was worse he reports . . .

Bitting, Van Dyke Reach Finals in Junior Tourney

Bob Bitting and Wally Van Dyke are expected to play their match for the first annual Boy's Junior Club championship at Brookside Country club some time next week . . .

These two have battled their way through the starting field of 11 players. The tournament is being sponsored by Ira Gruber and will be a yearly event . . .

Bitting, who was tournament medalist with an 89, shot an 85 while defeating Lenny Levin, 2 up, in their semi-final match. Levin pressed him all the way, carding an 86 . . .

Van Dyke eliminated Jack Sotter, 6 and 5, in their semi-final match. Wally shot a 42 on the front nine to pile up a substantial lead. He finished with an 89 . . .

At present, Van Dyke is in the semi-finals of the Prince trophy matches at Brookside. Bitting was beaten in the upper flight Struckman trophy the past weekend . . .

REIDENOUR WINS 5th; HEAVY HITTING SHOW

City Industrial league fans have been expecting UAW 644 to put on a big hitting show some night and it came off against St. John's last evening in a 9-1 victory for the Workers . . .

In racking up their ninth CIL win, the Workers of manager Chick Hawk blasted out 14 hits including a homer and six doubles. St. John's collected only two hits off Dave Reidenour but both were solid triples to score the losers' one run . . .

Reidenour was master of the situation at all times except for a few minutes in the second inning. He picked up his fifth straight win came in to field it and it swerved without a loss and moved ahead by him before he could do anything of Paul Neborak in the strikeout department, 36-51 . . .

Dick and Dave Ricketts and Lee Hallman supplied most of the UAW power. Dick had three straight hits, including a homer . . .

Leck's first pitch and lined it to left field. The ball took a sharp skip to Joe Karpinski's right as he came in to field it and it swerved without a loss and moved ahead by him before he could do anything of Paul Neborak in the strikeout department, 36-51 . . .

Things quieted down on the UAW bench for the next two innings but the Falcons acted up in the second. Karpinski led off with a liner to right center that was good for his second triple of the year. Joe has four hits this season—a single, two triples and a homer . . .

Bill Ulshafer followed with a long fly over Roy Hoff's head in right field for another triple, scoring Karpinski with the Falcons' only run. Reidenour held Ulshafer on third as he retired Neborak on a grounder and struckout Mit Leck and John Kocon . . .

UAW did the rest of its scoring in the fourth inning with seven hits . . .

JACKIE FOUT started the up-rising with a single that Rod Canell knocked down behind second but could not hold. Leck came through at this point with a pair of strikeouts and looked in good shape. But then the roof fell in . . .

Reidenour lofted a double to left center scoring Fout. Lee Hallman pulled a double down the left field line to send Reidenour home. John Hallman slapped an infield single and Dave Ricketts followed with a long double to center . . .

Dick lined a drive into the centerfield stands for another double and Leck was removed in favor of Neborak . . .

Dick Kroh greeted Paul with a hard smash past Mit Leck at third to score Dick Ricketts with the final run. Fout, up for the second time popped out to end the rally. Neborak gave up four hits during the second half of the game but did not allow another run to score . . .

Lee Hallman opened the game with a hard grounder that Mit Leck at third base was unable to handle. Lee turned on the speed and made second before the throw came in from left field. Brother John Hallman popped out, but Dave Ricketts followed with his sizzling double to score Lee . . .

DICK RICKETTS picked out

CHICAGO, July 21 (P)—Dan Bucceroni of Philadelphia and Tommy Harrison of Los Angeles, ranked No. 5 and 6 in the heavyweight bracket, square off tomorrow night in a 10 round bout at Chicago stadium . . .

Bucceroni, a 2-1 favorite, has packed 29 knockouts in his 42 victories. He has lost three times, to Dick Wagner, Roland La Starza and Bob Murphy . . .

Harrison lists Jimmy Bivins and Wesbury Bascom among the 20 foes he has beaten. He has been defeated seven times—including a loss this year to Ezzard Charles—and fought one draw. Harrison, with five KO's to his credit, injured Marclano's nose in a sparring session this Spring that caused the champion's bout with Jersey Joe Walcott to be postponed five weeks . . .

PAA Softballers Upsel Schwabs, 5-3

Behind the relief hurling of Tony Kozlowski, PAA downed Schwab's last night, 5-3, in a City Softball league upset . . .

Kozlowski relieved "Chick" Boughter in the second inning with one out, the bases loaded, and one run in. He gave up two runs and a Texas league single, then settled down to blank Schwab's for the rest of the way . . .

PAA, scoreless until the top of the fourth, pushed two men across to start their scoring . . .

"Bones" Koren backed up Kozlowski with a circuit clout in the fifth with two men on. This homer provided the winning margin. Neither team scored again . . .

Schwab's threatened in the last of the seventh with men on first and third and two away. They tried a double steal, but Detar pegged out Oxenford going into second to end the game . . .

With this win, PAA retains its slim chance to notch themselves a berth in the City Softball league playoffs next month . . .

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN THE BRONX, Helen Goldblatt saw a big throng cheering Cardinal Spellman. Loudest of all was a little old Jewish lady holding her granddaughter aloft to catch a glimpse of the passing prelate. "It's very nice of you to get so excited over Cardinal Spellman," observed Miss Goldblatt. "Cardinal Spellman?" echoed the startled old lady. "I thought they said it was Mischa Elman."

When A. A. Milne, creator of "Winnie the Pooh," first arrived in America, notes John Hutchins, he broke the routine of all visiting English literary lights by flatly refusing to comment on either the Manhattan skyline or American sex appeal. Then one reporter said, "You're famous for your whimsy over here, Mr. Milne. Please say something whimsical." The author flared at the reporter and exploded, "I detest that word!"
